Title: Observation English lesson
Teacher: Joseph Warnes
Students: 18
Topics:
1. Reading & Summary Strategies
2. World's Funniest Jokes
3. Group Discussions & Presentations
Date/Time: 17.03.2011/16:15 – 18:45

Procedure:

Joseph showed the students the text “Reading & Summary Strategies” with the beamer and explained how to work through longer texts. His main statement was to find out the core statement in a minimum of time. He always pointed out that it is more important to understand the content of a text than to know each word (minimum effort – maximum result).

Afterwards the students had to read a text (The next Green Revolution) using a.m. strategies.

After a short coffee break Joseph started with some nice jokes to relax the lesson. The students had fun.

At the end of the lesson the students had about 20 minutes to discuss in groups about an interesting topic. Then each group presented their results to all of us and we discussed on the themes.

Our statement:

Joseph’s way of teaching is very steady and pleasant. He has an enjoyable vocal range and his spoken English is clearly understandable.

It was a very nice and active group of mainly young students.

It was a very interesting lesson for us and in our opinion Joseph did a very professional and good work.
