Placemat Activity

How to process:

Mark out one member of your group for being the time manager, one for being the writer for the placemat and the poster and one for being the presenter

Think (thinking about and writing):

Each group of students does a brainstorming and notices its ideas concerning the topic in its part of the placemat.

Pair (silent comparison):

Each group reads the notices of the former group and does its own brainstorming.

Share (sharing and agreement):

Each group returns to its own placemat.

Afterwards all members of each group decide together which minds are the most important ones and write them down in the middle part of the placemat (not more than 6 points).
